HEIR OF THE OTHERWORLD

A teen demigod must undertake an epic journey to the realm of the old Irish gods where she will depose her enemies and reclaim her birthright.

Over a thousand years ago, the Irish gods battled a fearsome enemy in their magical homeland, the Otherworld. The war ended in devastation, and the portal between the Otherworld and the human realm was sealed, leaving several gods trapped in the human world. Now seventeen year-old Rosaleen has gods and monsters to fight, a kingdom to liberate and a mother to please (she's Morrigan, the goddess of death and battle so that's not an easy thing). This is the challenge she was bred for and she's determined to use all her stealth and battle training to see the quest through, put her mother on the throne, and finally get herself a life—and maybe some friends with a pulse for a change.

But this quest is no stroll through the Otherworld—dangerous creatures and hidden enemies lurk around every turn of the road. When the release of an ancient weapon carries the battle into the human world, Rosaleen must stand as its guardian and assemble an army of humans and supernatural beings to fight the rising evil.

Praise for Other Books by L.E. DeLano:

"BLUE highlights the importance of what happens when one bad decision alters the course of a life. High school readers will relate to the mental health struggles Blue goes through. This book is an easy read and ends on a light note with a positive message despite the difficult events." - Danielle Corrao for the Pennsylvania School Librarians Association (PSLA) Lit Review

"BLUE by L.E. DeLano is an intense and completely engrossing YA novel about perspective . . . a must read for teens and anyone else who enjoys a great fictional story." - Paige Lovitt for Reader Views Kids

TRAVELER is a stellar debut novel with something for everyone—action, mystery, romance, even time travel . . . Overall, this is an excellent, engaging read that will appeal to fans of many genres." - School Library Connection

"DeLano's debut novel is full of mystery, action, and romance. Her masterful storyline will keep readers guessing until the very last sentence . . . DeLano's portrayal of a young man affected by autism shows the author's sensitivity and knowledge and will be appreciated by those with relatives or friends diagnosed with the disorder." - VOYA (Voices of Youth Advocates)

L.E. DeLano lives and writes in Amish Country, Pennsylvania with two hilarious kids and two ridiculous cats.
